What am I covered for?

Your diagnosis must be confirmed by an appropriate specialist and includes the following diseases:

- Stroke: Death of the brain tissue due to inadequate blood supply or bleeding within the skull, confirmed by a CT scan or an MRI.
- Open heart surgery that requires division of the breast bone.
- Heart attack: Death of a portion of the heart muscle due to insufficient blood to the heart with clear evidence of typical clinical symptoms; acute ECG changes; raised biochemical markers and permanent pathological ECG changes, at least six weeks later.
- Cancer: A malignant solid tumour that is characterised by uncontrolled growth of malignant cells and invasion of the tissue of origin. Cancer of the blood, requiring either chemotherapy, radiation therapy or a bone marrow transplant. Prostate cancer, only if the tumour can be felt on examination. Non-melanoma skin cancer only if the tumour is larger than 2 cm. Kaposi's sarcoma is excluded. There is a three-month waiting period for cancer claims from the cover start date and cover must be in place for three months before you are diagnosed with cancer.

When won't I be covered?

- You won't receive a payout if the illness results in death within two weeks of diagnosis.
- You will also not be covered if the illness is as a result of harming yourself, breaking the law or intentionally putting yourself in a position where you are exposed to war or war-like activities.
- You will not be covered for any exclusions communicated to you.

How does it work?

This cover is not meant to replace medical aid or Life Cover. It can assist in dealing with the impact of being seriously ill, by paying you an amount to spend however you choose. Your cover will continue until you claim and get paid out a lump sum, you turn 65 or you die, whichever happens first.

You must have an HIV test within 90 days of your cover start date. If you don't or if your test comes back reactive, your cover will be converted to an option that is limited to cancer cover only. However, if you have cancer listed as an exclusion, your cover will not be converted, it will be cancelled.
